

Welcome to the first Bakers Holidays newsletter of 2010. Our latest adventures are now well underway, however there's still time to book...

Here in the holidays department we are hoping that spring is finally on the way and fingers crossed for a long hot summer to enhance our adventures.

Holidays don't have to be far away from home, especially in a country that offers so much to see and do. For 2010 we have put together a varied programme designed to fulfil the most demanding expectations. From the bright lights of big cities – theme parks to country estates and from firework spectaculars to secluded beaches the 2010 programme offers lots of new adventures suitable for all age groups and abilities.

We are currently working very hard to get our festive adventures confirmed and we will have the brochure available for you all in May. Sue and myself plan to have an open day on Saturday 19th June, so pop down to see us, to book your adventure and for more information or for a cup of tea and a chat! As an added benefit we will be giving discounts on any Holidays booked on the day!!

See you soon.

Enjoy your adventure!!!!

Stephanie

The Green Coach Company–
New for 2010- All Bakers Holidays are now Carbon Neutral

While coach travel is already a more environmentally friendly way to travel than aeroplanes and individual cars, Bakers has now taken steps to ensure that our adventures are even greener!

We have calculated all the CO₂ produced by our coaches during our tours and have offset it against funded projects to achieve clean air initiatives that deliver an equivalent CO₂ saving elsewhere.

Meet the Team– Sue—Reservations

Sue is the cheery face of the Holidays department offering expert advice and friendly chat on all our range of adventures.

Sue came into the tours 18 months ago, after being a School Secretary for over 15 years in a local Primary School. She has developed a good product knowledge with hotel visits, which means she has valuable information at her finger tips. Sue says that the best part of her job is chatting to our customers to provide them with the adventure they'll enjoy the most.

Look out on the next newsletter for information about Alan– Driver.
